

LAWYER

Legal industry

WHAT'S THIS ABOUT?

A mid-sized downtown law firm has been around for three decades and is looking to add an experienced lawyer in civil and commercial litigation to their impressive team.

They need someone who has experience in long trials and examinations on discovery. The existing team has an entrepreneurial mindset and they shine when a hard case comes their way. Adding a like-minded team member who is ready to take on challenging cases is important because they are a tight-knit group.

Our client is committed to offering a high-level quality of professional life, compatible with today's family demands. Are you ready to make the leap?
